CERTIFICATION

January 1, 2018

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

This is to certify that ROUSSELOT kosher gelatin, produced by Rousselot at Isle-Sur-Sorgue, France, is made under my supervision in full accordance with Orthodox Jewish Dietary Laws.

I have personally inspected the manufacturing facilities of the above plant and hereby verify that its gelatin is derived exclusively from inedible cattle bones or hides chemically purged of all traces of extraneous substances. The raw material is rendered pure collagen.

Bones and hides, in such form, according to all major sources in Jewish Law, are not included in any of the categories of forbidden foods. Hence, gelatin produced from such raw material is kosher and parve for year-round use, including Passover.

This certification includes NeutralGel-B gelatin.

A detailed explanation of the basis for the approval of the aforementioned products as kosher, along with a list of the chief modern rabbinic sources relating to this subject, is available upon request.

This certification is effective through December 31, 2018, and is subject to renewal at that date.

Sincerely yours,

David I. Sheinkopf,
Rabbi

January 1, 2018

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

This is to certify that the bone and hide gelatin products manufactured by PB/LEINER/PB GELATINS at its plants in Germany, United Kingdom and South America, are made under my supervision in full accordance with Jewish Dietary Laws.

The aforesaid products are derived exclusively from cattle bones or hides, chemically purged of all extraneous material. The raw material is rendered pure ossein or collagen.

In this state, bones and hides (even from non-ritually slaughtered cattle), according to all major sources of Jewish Law, are not included in any of the categories of forbidden foods.

Gelatin produced from such raw material is kosher and pareve for year-round use including Passover.

A more detailed explanation for the approval of bone and hide gelatin as kosher, including the chief sources in Jewish Law relating to this subject, is available upon request.

This certification is effective through December 31, 2018, and is subject to renewal at that date.

Sincerely yours,

Noah S. Sheinkopf
Rabbi
